

BACKLANDER™ BED – WARNINGS

The Backlander™ bed is designed to be recreational. Users should heed the following warnings to enjoy using the Backlander™ bed safely. FAILING TO FOLLOW THESE WARNINGS MAY RESULT IN SERIOUS INJURY OR DEATH.

- Users of the Backlander™ bed should follow the assembly and use instructions.
- Users should be cautious when unfolding and setting up the Backlander™ bed. Hands and fingers can be caught in moving parts if caution is not taken.
- Backlander™ beds are not designed for infants, toddlers, or children that are otherwise at risk of falling or suffocating.
- Users should consider the total weight of all individuals sitting or lying on the Backlander™ bed and not exceed its weight capacity.
- Adults should supervise children when they are using the Backlander™ bed.
- The Backlander™ bed is not a toy, and users should not jump on or off of the Backlander™ bed.
- The Backlander™ bed should not be used on uneven or unstable ground.
- If Backlander™ beds are stacked as bunk beds, users should not attach items to the bed(s) that become strangulation hazard